Introducing Ourselves

Andrew Greenlee Associate Professor

Population: 1,425,237 Mean Score: 18.51 Avg. Distance (km): 7.31 Percent Nonwhite: 92.61% Poverty Rate: 34.00%

Population: 1,644,607 Mean Score: 37.37 Avg. Distance (km): 9.28 Percent Nonwhite: 67.04% Percent Nonwhite: 41.64% Percent Nonwhite: 26.03% Percent Nonwhite: 21.80% Poverty Rate: 19.32%

Population: 1,799,489 Mean Score: 53.99 Avg. Distance (km): 10.80 Poverty Rate: 11.73%

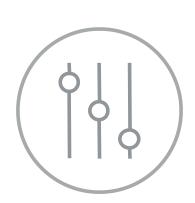

Population: 1,885,846 Mean Score: 68.56 Poverty Rate: 6.93%

Population: 1,831.430 Mean Score: 81.17 Avg. Distance (km): 11.10 Avg. Distance (km): 10.30 Poverty Rate: 6.04%

Course Objectives

The System

The Policy

Analysis

Experience

Develop an understanding of the housing production and regulation system in the United States

Develop an understanding of the intersection between housing and urban policy initiatives

Learn and apply strategies for empirical investigation and description of housing conditions

Have the opportunity to interact with a range of housing practitioners